BOGLE'S HYPERION FLUID: For Restoring, Preserving and Adorning THE HAIR!

THE GREAT PRESERVATIVE OF THE AGE NO HOME in the Tropics should be without Bo Prof. Anderson, in 1855, Pronounced it to be the Saver of his Hair ROYAL LYCKUM THEATER, STRAND, LONDON, Saturday, Aug. 25th. .855. It affords me very great pleasure to bear witness to the sur-rising efficacy of "Bogle's Hyperion Fluid." I had occasion to resort to it after losing so much of my hair as to be almost bald, owing to the influence of the climate, during my tour in the United States. Various much vaunted Hair Restaratives which I had already tried having entirely failed, I was advised to test the value of Mr. Bogie's preparation. I used it diligently for some time, when to my great gratification my hair assumed more than its former luxuriance. Hence I can—both from my own experience and that of my friends to whom I have recommended its use—most confidently advise the use of the "Hyperion Fluid" to all who need the use of that which shall restore, nourish, and beautify their hair. For these pur poses, I am certain that it is unsurpassed and unsurpassable. JOHN HENRY ANDERSON,

To the Public of Honolulu.

The Agent of Bogle's Hyperion Fluid having called on me when I arrived here, I was delighted to find my old friend had preceded me (I mean Begle's Fluid.) My hair was falling off in thousands per day; a short interview with my friend has stoped the fall; a few smart rubbing operations, performed by "VOEI.KER," has made every hair as tast as the Hawaiian on my Magic Chair. 1, in 1859, in Honolulu, recommend it to the world as the Great Hair Preserver. BEST HAIR DYE the World!

THIS IS RATHER STRONG language, Tyet Bogle's Electric Hair Dye (recently improved) was proven to be so by the judges at the late Mechanics' Fair, held in Boston (among whom was Dr. Hayes, the eminent chemist and State Assayer), who awarded it the Prize Medal and Diploma, over the choicest hair dyes on exhibition from all parts of the Union. Its unparalleled superiority consists in, lst, The ingredients are nourishing to the hair, not destructive, as others are. 2d, Does not hart or stain the skin. 3d, Is easily applied, and dyes the hair any color required, from a delicate brown to a deep black, so natural as to appear mar vellous. which greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation-will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action,

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS. We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and CAN SAY, IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it what we never have been able to say of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used It. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues.

We speak in this matter " WHAT WE DO KNOW," after ten years' experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FUL-FILLMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered. This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most EX-PERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England, and has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in THOUSANDS OF CASES. It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the shomach and bowels, corrects saidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedify remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIAR-RHEA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any there are. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—DO NOT LET YOUR PRE-JUDICES, NOR THE PREJUDICES OF OTHERS, stand between you and your suffering child, and the relief that will be SURE—yes ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. LECTURE III. KUSAIE AND THE KUSAIEN.

Kushie, or Strong's Island, is the most eastern of those islands which may be comprehended in the Caroline Range. It is a basaltic island in lat.

5 20 N. and long 163 10 W. Let us suppose ourselves approaching it for the first time from the northeast, as our missionary company did on the 21st of August, 1852. Three small peaks appear, so far apart it is difficult to resist the impression that more than one island is seen. But gradually as we approach the whole is united in one. Our winds are light, and we advance but slowly. Sabbath morning we awake with the island only fifteen or twenty miles distant. The whole landscape is flooded with hues of deepest green. Such a perfect garment of vegetation we never before saw thrown over connected hills and vallies. The sharply serrated bills, stretching a distance of fifteen miles from north to south, some of which are near two thousand feet in height, are romantic with verdure even up the greater part of the precipitous faces of the basaltic pinnacles. Unaccustomed as our eyes then were to such tropic scenes, this apparition of Kusaien romance on a peaceful Sabbath morning was like a glimpse of the celes-

" Nor painter's art nor poet's skill can tell Half the enchantment of that vision bright, When first your green shores swell upon the sight."

Ere long a whale-boat approaches with a white man in its stern and six or eight nearly naked natives seated on its gunwales, keeping admirable time with long, narrow paddles. They are soon aboard of us. Their dress is a maro woven from banana fibres. In stature they are generally small. All the features of their countenance are small and rather delicate. Their color is a light copper. Their eyes have a slightly oblique and sunken position, which immediately reminds one of the Chinese and their long, fine, black hair, all drawn back ard and tied upon itself in a large knot on the lack or side of the head, still further heightens their Chinese appearance. As on most of the Pacific Islands, there are individuals of a darker cast and coarser hair. Their ears are small, but the lower lobe is perforated, and flowers, with oth-Though ignorant, degraded and naked, they are among the most pleasing of savages. At four P. M. we are brought safely to our anchor in the so-called Weather Harbor on the north east side of the island. A number of natives come off and loiter familiarly about our decks. Very many understand the common sailor's English. and speak it with much distinctness. Within a few rods of us to the north, the King's houses close to the beach peer out from under a cocoanut grove, exhibiting the huge Kusaien roof, with its ridge peculiarly concave upwards, and here and there around the bay the white glimmer of thatched roofs is seen amidst the deep green that mantled the whole amphitheatre.

The idea that this harbor is but a large extinct, and partially submerged crater, greatly enhances the interest of a scene already surcharged with novelty. Whether it has been in the first instance. during some of its earlier eras, a submarine volcano, afterward elevated to the regions of day, and denuded in the process, and has again undergone a partial subsidence, during which the coral element was developed around and in it, must be left to others for final adjudication. The rampart of basalt towers with its sharp serrations so near on the south, and the hill of Lella and Mount Bauche press so close on the north, while the lower mural line connecting them can be traced over the tree tops in the west, shutting off the later rays of the sun as the eastern spar of the southern mountains does its earlier, one feels when safely moored in the placid lagoon, whose shores wave with a many-leaved thicket, and whose shoaler waters ripple over gardens of coral, that Nature here admits of a more than usually near approach to her maternal bosom. After floating uneasily for weeks on the restless sea, our vessel seems to fold its wings and nestle down like any sea-bird upon the placid lagoon, thankful to the Beneficent One who elevates such rocky battlements among the waves by a mechan-

Upon what lower thickets, the entangling vine and the shining mosses, and that gave life to so many of the lower orders of animal nature! In the rich vegetable mould that has accumulated around the once bare basalt luxuriate several species of the terrestrial pulmoniferous shells. Very many molluscous shell-fish crawl over the coral wainscoating of this marine palace, a part of whose adornment they have from the beginning been; while others burrow in the acrid mud along the shore, and still others accomplish a life-long The bark ROVER, the pioneer of the line, will leave San bath in the springs and streams that must have drenched the earliest of their race. drenched the earliest of their race.

So do the various spiders here spin their web and watch their prey, as did their Kusaien Adams and Eves. Here the house-fly has buzzed, certainly, ever since fish began to decay and breadfruit to ripen. Generations upon generations of the consciously degraded cockroaches have with unceasing devotion accomplished their tasks; while the raptorial dragon-fly has glared upon its minute prey as its organic law required. I HEREBY give notice that I have appointed gradually, as they skulked from point to point list daughter that she was kept unburied.

It was about noon when we bade King Georga low men-the only beings who could be their enemy-their delight scarce knew a bound. They ate of the cocoanuts that so beneficently towered along the shore. Luscious breadfruit soon grew fragrant on the fire, made by rubbing together the first dry pieces of hibiscus that came to hand! Branches of trees furnished bowers, until with renewed energies the refugees were able to build houses as pear to the models of those from whence they came, as the materials at hand allowed. The colony may have been a considerable one, from a numerous fleet keeping melancholy company till they sighted their new found home; and consequently the woods may have become rapidly vocal with the cries of infancy, the sports of youth, and the industry, and festivities, and even the passions of manhood. The little community instinct-ively chrystalises into a society with chiefs and subordinates, after the manner of their father land: and all the repulsive train of petty jealousies and sharp rivalries to which man is heir are as surely developed as the fruit over their heads or the showers on their hills. The lowest of animal passions also walk as unblushingly among them as their own naked bodies, with only this alleviation, that they are the natural developments of deranged moral natures unstimulated by the light and denunciation of direct revelation. They have brought a mild heathenism that rompts them to selecting the most prominent rocks and ledges, and even trees, as incarnations of deities, and that deifies the dead, so that they avoid the grosser developments of pagan cruelty.

Ages lapse. The memory of the first arrival fades from even the traditions of the descendants. Their history is undiversified save by the occasion-al arrival of lost mariners, like their forefathers, who either suffer immediate death or coalesce with those who have prior rights, or ultimately return to their neighboring island homes. At intervals of generations a wondrous apparition with mast and sail is wafted past them, which so fires the magination of some daring mind that he prophecies future intercourse with a race navigating the sea in canoes destitute of outriggers. And lo the wizard proves a seer! In 1804 Capt. Crozer discovers Kusaie and reports it to the civilized world as Strong's Island, after the then Governor of Massachusetts. In 1824 the French Commander Duperrey visits Kesaie and thoroughly explores it.

Among the earlier of these long anticipated objects of Kusaien prophecy is the schooner Waverly, Capt. Cathcart, fitted out from the Sandwich Islands, and who in the winter of 1835 anchored probably but a few rods from where we now lay. She is welcomed with eager curiosity and generous hospitality. But hush! Can you not even yet er fragrant substances, such as tobacco pipes, are hear echoing round this enchanted valley the worn in them. A few perforate the upper rim of screeching horror of murdered white men and the their ear, as a more convenient place for the to- | yelling triumph of murdering savages? Kusaien bacco pipe they almost invariably carry with them. friendship is horrid mockery-this beautiful landscape is red with treachery. A few months later in the same year Capt. Stock in the small trading schooner Honduras lost his life in this harbor. All but two of his crew were killed, who effected their escape in the vessel to Ponapi. Oh for an avenging sword! Yet hold! Your attention but for a moment to a few lines regarding the Waverly in the broken English of a more recent Kusaien King not engaged in the affair. "White man want to get gal go aboard ship. King no like. In night white man take plenty gal go board ship. In morning kanaka go board ship; every kanaka; big island, small island, all go and kill every man board ship. White man kill some kanakas; then kanakas take chests, small things ashore; then set fire to ship; burn sails, rigging, their ramble on shore. Close to the shore near which we lay was the King's enclosure, made of rattan-like reeds, within which were several large houses. At the door of one of these we found King George awaiting our arrival. As we each in order shook his hand, he wished us a "good morning" with a very pleas-ant smile. We stood about this door for a few moments and were then asked to enter by another. We took our seats on a number of foreign chests arranged on one side of the apartment. The King's proper name was Keru. His native title, the Kusaien term for King, is Tokësau-a term found in various parts of Micronesia, sometimes even applied to a Deity. The title of George, by which alone he will descend to after times, came from foreign flatterers, such as are ever ready to infest even a court of naked savages. His reign must have commenced in 1837 or 1838. Our eyes rapidly indulge their curiosity in glancing round the room, which constitutes the whole house. The frame is of large side posts of mangrove projecting about five feet above the ground, on which a largely disproportionate roof is erected, principally of hibiscus wood, and made to curve upwards at the two ends. It is thatched with a species of palm. The sides of the house between the posts are closely filled with slats or laths of hibiscus very neatly tied one above the other, slightly lapping. In the center is a square fire-place, slightly lower than the surrounding floor of reeds regularly bound together. There is a very pleasant air of neatness and taste about the whole. The fastenings of cord, so very numerous and conspicuous, are rendered quite ornamental by using alternately black and white cordage. Valuables of native origin may be seen on long shelves along the sides of the room. There are woven maros, and pearl fish-hooks, and pieces of tortoise shell. and stone adges, and singular ornaments of shells to be carried on the canoes of chiefs. Several guns stand conspicuously on one side, and a lantern, a few water-colored prints, a cocoanut dipper, a lamp and other such articles as form Many a sprightly crab rattles its shelly limbs the furniture and decorations of a vessel, stood or hung in different parts of the room, arranged with the evident intent of exhibiting King George's foreign wealth as Solomon might have exhibited his peacocks and monkeys from Farshish.

Having successfully accomplished the missionary objects of our visit, which have been recorded in the Missionary Herald, we asked permission to look about. First we entered the King's cooking or feasting house-a very huge building after the general model, where fifteen or twenty men were busily engaged over the various niceties of a Kusaie meal, the great staple of which is breadfruit prepared in all the various ways that an ingenuity with few appliances, for long centuries confined to a few such channels of enterprise, has devised. whole aspect in speaking of his bereavement, which of the green hills to the crews of the junk or the proa after its long, involuntary, voyage from some for about three months, when it is dug up, the bones carefully washed and tied together and then As they crawled up the beach it is not difficult to imagine their dread lest other unfortunate voyagers had preceded them and would dispute the ing, all the high chiefs live and eat in the King's
